Apply Overpayment - BAR3400

Accounts Receivable > Maintenance > Invoice Payments > Apply Overpayment

This tab is used to apply either a partial or full amount of a customer's available overpayment as payment toward one or more of that same customer's outstanding invoices.

Notes:

- Invoices must be printed before an overpayment can be applied.
- The BAR7500 - Reprint Invoices Report always prints the original invoice, even if an overpayment has been applied to the invoice.

Apply overpayments:

Under Select an Outstanding Overpayment,

Under Invoices available for Customer:

- Each invoice record displays the invoice number, invoice date, invoice amount, amount paid, adjusted amount, overpayment credit, outstanding amount, and invoice account code.
- If the customer has an outstanding invoice that has yet to be printed, the invoice record is not displayed and an overpayment cannot be applied.
- In the Apply Amount field, type the payment amount to be applied to the corresponding invoice number.
 - The amount must be equal or less than the customer's available overpayment amount (i.e., the amount displayed in the Available Amount column in the top grid).
 - The amount cannot exceed the invoice amount.
