Salary Calculation - HRS3400

Human Resources > Utilities > Mass Update > Salary Calculation

This tab is used to update salary data for a number of employees at a single time. Data may be updated by a variety of criteria including pay type, pay grade, primary campus, and payroll frequency. Once salary data is altered using this page, changes are reflected in the individual employee records.

The system makes salary calculations based on the salary concept which uses one of the following three formulas: midpoint, annual salary, or hourly/daily rate.

Caution: Because of the profound and widespread effects caused by this function, users need to exercise caution when executing mass update salary calculations.
