Purchasing > Maintenance > Create/Modify Requisition

This page is used to edit existing requisitions, create new requisitions, and filter existing requisitions by from/to date or requestor. Originators can submit requisitions for multiple requestors. You can only view and edit the requisitions that you created.

- Requisitions created by originators with no approval path are automatically approved when saved, and a purchase order is created when the requisition is submitted.
- Requisitions created in the current accounting period that have all general journal transactions in the current accounting period are displayed in the current and the next accounting period.
- Requisitions created in the next accounting period that have all general journal transactions in the next accounting period are displayed in only the next accounting period.
- Requisitions created in the current accounting period that have general journal transactions in the next accounting period are displayed in only the next accounting period.
- Requisitions created in the current accounting period that have no general journal transactions (saved requisitions) are displayed in the current and the next accounting period.
- Requisitions created in the next accounting period that have no general journal transactions (saved requisitions) are displayed in the next accounting period only.

Note: If another user enters an account code for which the selected requestor is not authorized to use in his user profile, the account description is changed to Account Code Not In User Profile. Users can:

- Change the unauthorized account code to an account code in the requestor's user profile.
- Change the values in the Percent and Amount columns of the unauthorized account code.

Saved requisitions are set to a Not Submitted status. When submitted, the requisition status changes to Pending until it is approved (if required) and becomes a purchase order.

The logged-on user can only view their own requisitions.

Although completing the Employee Nbr field is optional in Security Administration, it is necessary for employees to access information on this page.

If an originator does not have an approval path and creates a requisition, the requisition is automatically approved when saved, and a purchase order is created if they are submitted.

Requisitions cannot be created if the current date is greater than the cutoff date on the Options > Purchasing Options page in District Administration.
